

A vibrant, stylized illustration of a spring scene. At the top left, a bright yellow sun with rays is partially visible. The sky is a clear blue with soft, white clouds. On the left, a large green tree with a brown trunk stands on a patch of green grass. In the center, a red building with a white awning and a black door is depicted. The door has a white sign that reads "MASKS REQUIRED". To the right of the red building, a taller red building with yellow windows is visible. The overall style is flat and colorful, typical of modern digital art.
